

ENDEL Purchasing Policy - External

ENDEL is the French leader in industrial maintenance and energy services.

We rely on our core business and specialist activities (piping, welding, boiler making, valves, mechanics, ...) to help our customers respond to their challenges by offering them technical, strategic, environmental, safety, and security solutions.

Meeting our customers' needs and guaranteeing our performance requires the purchase of equipment, tools, and services.

ENDEL seeks innovative, reliable, and competitive offers, and endeavours to develop lasting and mutually beneficial partnerships in order to create and manage a panel of efficient suppliers that fulfils both our requirements and those of our customers, while also limiting the risk of ENDEL becoming dependent.

ENDEL's purchasing management is entrusted with the qualification and monitoring of a panel of reliable suppliers, to implement fair and mutually beneficial trade agreements, and to protect the company's expenditure by contributing to its performance.

Our commitments to suppliers

- ☑ To fairly select the best offers based on objective criteria (technical, qualitative, deadlines, and costs) and to find equitable contractual commitments
- ☑ To disseminate our values and our quality, health, security, and environmental safety culture (Q3SE):
 - By integrating them during the design, development, or preparation stages of our interventions
 - By training and informing our staff and suppliers of the correct operating procedures, quality controls, and prevention/environmental measures to follow
 - By ensuring that our staff and suppliers comply with the site's Q3SE rules
 - By providing the necessary quality and safety resources for a successful performance
 - By uniquely assigning trained and authorised personnel to each task
 - By stopping any intervention where dangerous situations are present
 - By recalling that no technical, commercial, or financial motive can take precedence over safety or security.
- ☑ To respect ethical rules in terms of suppliers, payment terms, and competition law
- ☑ To seek amicable solutions, to resolve conflict through mediation.
